

4.5-ADVANCED MIXED LECTURES

Decision Making

>Piece Exchange, good for bad piece exchange	[1-5]
>Piece Exchange, eliminate strongest piece.	[6-9]
>Piece Exchange, queen trade	[10-13]
>Piece Exchange, keep the tension.	[14-17]
>Piece Exchange, bishop pair	[18-19]
>Piece Exchange, transformation of advantage	[20]
>Piece Exchange, material deficit	[21]
>Piece Exchange, space advantage	[22]
>Piece Exchange, opposite color bishop	[23]
>Piece Exchange, exchanging without a plan.	[24]
>Avoiding simplification, forcing simplification.	[25-26]
>Avoiding simplification, middlegame vs endgame.	[27-33]
>Avoiding simplification, increasing drawing chances.	[34-36]
>Strategic structure decision, pawns don't move backwards.	[37-42]
>Strategic structure decision, changing pawn structure.	[43-45]
>Strategic structure decision, double pawns	[46-47]
>Strategic structure decision, passed pawn.	[48]
>Strategic center decision, fighting for center control.	[49-54]
>Strategic center decision, clarifying central structure.	[55-57]
>Strategic center decision, open vs closed center.	[58-62]
>Strategic center decision, choosing central structure.	[63-64]
>Positional transformation, positional vs positional concept	[65-68]
>Positional transformation, changing pawn structure.	[69-70]
>Positional transformation, material vs positional.	[71-74]
>Positional transformation, opening the position.	[75-77]
>Piece deployment, neglecting development.	[78-82]
>Piece deployment, wrong piece deployment.	[83-91]
>Opponent resources, carelessness.	[92-95]
>Opponent resources, underestimating counterattack.	[96-98]
>Opponent resources, prophylaxis	[99-100]
>Opponent resources, greed	[101-102]
> Opponent resources, tactical oversight	[103-109]
>Opponent resources, unexpected move	[110-113]
>Opponent resources, blunder	[114-117]
>Critical moment, initiative	[118-123]
>Critical moment, defense	[124-126]
>Critical moment, draw offer.	[127-129]
>Critical moment, double-edge position	[130-132]
>Critical moment, many options	[133-134]
>Endgame technique, basic endgame technique	[135-136]
>Endgame technique passed pawn.	[137-138]
>Endgame technique, rook endgame technique	[139-141]
>Endgame technique, allowing counterplay.	[142-145]
>Endgame technique, active defense	[146-148]

Tactic helps strategy.

>Problems “Think at least 5 mins”	[149-198]
>Problems solutions	[199-247]

The art of exchange.

>Position to evaluate possible exchanges	[248-303]
--	-----------

Rook endgames guide.

>Instructive positions	[304-514]
------------------------------	-----------

Modern Middlegame Lessons “Evans-Silman-Smith”

>The long diagonal	[515]
>Attacking on opposite wings	[516]
>Sacrifice to enter the middlegame	[517]
>Whose king is safer	[518]
>Material vs Initiative	[519]
>Fight vs the bishop on g7	[520]
>Queenside counterattack	[521]
>Uncastled King	[522]
>Stuck sacrifice in the middlegame	[523]
>The long diagonal	[524]
>The back rank weak	[525]
>Middlegame perseverance	[526]
>Middlegame steamroller	[527]
>A careless move	[528]
>Initiative in the early Middlegame	[529]
>Building a brilliant defense	[530]
>Shocking middlegame	[531]
>Jockeying for position	[532]
>Good bishop on the late middlegame & early endgame	[533]
>Good knight on the late middlegame & early endgame	[534]
>Attack on opposite wings	[535]
>Blending on opening, middlegame, endgame	[536]
>Middlegame pin cushion	[537]
>Drastic penalty for a careless move	[538]
>Stupendous middlegame struggle	[539]
>Castling opposite sides	[540]

Lessons with a GM 1 “Boris Gulko”:

>Content	[541]
>About this publication	[542]
>Preface	[543]
>Introduction	[544]
>Time factor/Dynamic play/Initiative	[545]
>Doubled pawns in the center	[546]

>Improve you pieces before pawns break	[547]
>Minority attack in the endgame	[548]
>Remove your opponent's best defender pieces	[549]
>Exchange sacrifice/Power of bishop	[550]
>Prophylaxis moves	[551]
>Correct trades	[552]
>Unusual change of plans	[553]
>Doubled, isolated pawns can be useful	[554]
>Relative value of the pieces	[555]
>Open file/Each trade improve or worsen the position	[556]
>Prophylaxis/Simplify the position	[557]
>Weak pawns/Relative value of the initiative	[558]
>White king out of play	[559]
>Safety of the king and quality of pawns	[560]
>Pawn sacrifice/e-file open and rooks play on opened file	[561]
>Vs a tactical player takes the game into a strategic path	[562]
>Weak pawns and active pieces	[563]
>Weak squares	[564]
>Control of the c-file	[565]
>Zugzwang	[566]
>Prevent opponent's plan	[567]
>Pieces bad placed equal bad position	[568]
>Counterplay on the queenside	[569]
>No rush but don't waste opportunity of active play	[570]

Lessons with a GM 2 "Boris Gulko":

>Content	[571]
>About this publication	[572]
>Preface	[573]
>Introduction	[574]
>Opposite side castling	[575]
>Passed pawn	[576-577]
>Active play in the center	[578]
>Counterattack ...f6 and ...g5 in the French defense	[579]
>Pressure on the d-file	[580]
>King in the center	[581-582]
>Exchange sacrifice	[583]
>Sharp dynamic play/attack	[584]
>Opposite side castling	[585]
>Center initiative/Kingside attack	[586]
>King in the center/Initiative	[587]
>Positional sacrifice	[588]
>Two bishops successfully fight vs queen	[589]
>Attack on the kingside	[590-591]
>Unbalanced position/Knights' power	[592]
>Attack on the kingside	[593]
>Opposite side castled/Kingside attack	[594]

>Long diagonal a8-h1	[595]
>Initiative/Attack king in the center	[596-599]
>Keep the initiative/Knights off the game	[600]
>Castled same side/Attack on the kingside	[601-602]
>Isolated & weak e6-pawn	[603]
>Opposite side castled/Attack on the king	[604]
>Queen sacrifice for rook and knight	[605]
>Defensive skills/King on fire, defend it	[606]
>Conclusions	[607]

Lessons with a GM 3 “Boris Gulko”:

>Content	[608]
>About this publication	[609]
>Preface	[610]
>Introduction	[611]
>Chapter 1 “The advantage of the two bishops”	[612-614]
>Chapter 2 “The theory of weak squares”	[615-618]
>Chapter 3 “The struggle for the initiative”	[619-624]
>Chapter 4 “Problems around counterplay”	[625-629]
>Chapter 5 “The struggle in the center”	[630-634]
>Chapter 6 “The mysterious passed pawn on the d-file”	[635-636]
>Chapter 7 “Piece coordination”	[637-638]
>Chapter 8 “Psychology in Chess”	[639-640]
>Chapter 9 “The struggle with the major pieces”	[641-642]
>Chapter 10 “Some strategic ideas in the Sicilian Defense”	[643-648]
>Chapter 11 “Some strategic ideas in the Catalan”	[649-653]

Chess Strategy Move by Move “Adam Hunt”:

>Contents	[654]
>About this publication	[655]
>Foreword	[656]
>Bibliography	[657]
>Introduction	[658]
>Chapter 1 “Central control”	[659-671]
>Chapter 2 “Looking after the king”	[672-684]
>Chapter 3 “Decisive development”	[685-694]
>Chapter 4 “Classic Pawn Structures & play	[695-708]
>Chapter 5 “Holes, Outpost & Weak Squares	[709-722]
>Chapter 6 “Improving worse pieces	[723-733]
>Chapter 7 “The initiative”	[734-744]
>Chapter 8 “Prophylaxis & Overprotection	[745-753]
>Chapter 9 “Evaluating positions”	[754-763]
>Chapter 10 “Winning won positions”	[764-775]
>Chapter 11 “Defensive resourcefulness”	[776-791]
>Chapter 12 “Chess psychology & Practical tips	[792-794]